Coronavirus Addendum January 2021

In these unprecedented times we are all aware of the need for additional needs for our safeguarding procedures; we continue to abide by our current policy but are acutely aware of a need for ensuring stringent online safety for our children and support for parents to have full understanding of the safety levels required.

The whole community will continue to abide by the acceptable use of online materials outlined in our E-Safety Policy, IT User Policy and our Social Media Policy. Merton Council offers online safety advice for parents here

South West London CCG

South West London CCG are committed to safeguarding children and young people during the COVID pandemic; this includes supporting GP's and health providers to fulfil their statutory safeguarding functions.

NHS provider services have given assurance to the CCG that they will continue to work with partner agencies to ensure the safety and welfare of children and young people. This includes continuing to contribute to Child Protection, Child in Need and Children Looked After Processes.

Community provider services risk assess children and families and prioritise contacts with vulnerable families. This includes assessing whether direct contact is required (where necessary using full Personal Protective Equipment) or if contact can be maintained through alternative means including phone and video calls.

The NHS is aware that many families may be experiencing increased stress during the COVID pandemic. Families may be experiencing isolation and reduced support from family, friends and other organisations. This could potentially increase the risk of domestic abuse, exacerbation of mental illness and substance misuse for some households. When concerns are identified referrals will be made to the appropriate early help or Multi Agency Safeguarding Hub.

When a child is ill or injured it may be very difficult to decide if/when to call your child's GP, NHS 111 or go to the Accident and Emergency Department (A&E). During the current situation and while the government is asking everyone to stay at home, it can be confusing to know what to do. The link provides guidance accessing the appropriate medical care for your child.

South West Basic Command Unit

Despite the challenges relating to the COVID 19 crisis, South West Police remain committed to protecting the most vulnerable children and adults across our four boroughs of Merton, Wandsworth, Kingston and Richmond. We are working closely with our key safeguarding partners to identify those most at risk and to respond in the most appropriate and safe way possible.

The Police Multi Agency Safeguarding Hub, Child Abuse Referral Team and Child Protection Conference Team continue to process and risk assess referrals and concerns regarding children and vulnerable adults across the BCU. Our staff have adapted well to working remotely in response to the Government's advice and we remain in close communication with our statutory safeguarding colleagues to protect vulnerable people as effectively as we can during this crisis.

Our Safeguarding Investigation teams continue their work 24/7 to bring domestic abuse, child abuse, adult abuse, serious sexual offences and hate crime offenders to justice. We continue to be fully engaged with the use of technology for continuing with multi agency safeguarding meetings to support and protect those most in need of multi-agency intervention.

South West Police Command are monitoring the impact of the COVID 19 crisis in terms of safeguarding trends and police resources closely and we remain focussed on keeping South West London safe.
